

Chand for synergy between tech, human capital

BHUBANESWAR: Nalco CMD Tapan Kumar Chand stressed the importance of maintaining synergy between implementation of technology and human capital. Speaking at Nalco's Industry - Institution Interaction programme at CV Raman

College of Engineering here today, Chand said employability of human resource should not be affected due to automation. "Machines help in amplifying the human ability, but it has a nameplate capacity, while the potential of human resources is unlimited and infinite," Chand said. Chand, accompanied by Sanjib Kumar Rout, Chairman of the institution, went around the various high-tech laboratories in the campus including processes and robotics laboratories and appreciated the efforts for setting up these laboratories in foreign collaboration.
